Updated: 4/13/20 – 5 pm et

U.S. states are providing tax filing and payment due date relief for individuals and businesses. The AICPA has compiled the below latest developments on state tax filings related to coronavirus. This document contains the first pages as a summary in reverse chronological order, starting with the furthest revised original due date of state filing relief to the soonest date order. The next part of the chart details each state or jurisdiction's guidance on tax filing and payment relief in alphabetical order by state. The final part covers federal updates, AICPA tax policy and advocacy efforts and resources, and other state tax resources, including the AICPA Federal Due Dates Chart Updated for COVID-19 Relief (open to AICPA members) and State Due Dates Chart Updated for COVID-19 Relief (open to AICPA members) that takes the relevant state due date information from this document and organizes it further. This document contains all the links and details to the states' guidance and dates of releases. We plan to update this information daily while the states are issuing guidance. Because the state tax authorities are often updating their information, it is best to confirm with each state's department of revenue website for the most updated information.

		July 31 – IA – for return filing and payment due 3/19-7/31 – individual, composite, fiduciary, corporation, franchise tax, partnership, S corp, credit union – no late filing or underpayment penalties. Interest starting 8/1/20. Relief does not apply to estimated taxes. Relief includes fiscal year returns. The filing and payment extension applies to any tax return and associated tax payment listed in Order 2020-01 with a due date on or after March 19, 2020, but before July 31, 2020. The filing and payment extension does not apply to estimated tax payments. A calendar-year filer's 1st quarter and 2nd quarter 2020 estimated payments are due on April 30, 2020, and June 30, 2020, respectively. Estimated taxes were specifically excluded from the relief in Order 2020-01. The estimated tax underpayment penalty relief provided in Order 2020-03 only applies to certain estimated tax installments due for tax years that begin in 2020. For example, 2019 estimated tax payments for calendar year filers were due in four installments (e.g. April 30, June 30, September 30, January 31, 2020) and these penalties are imposed for failure to make adequate estimated payments on time. Those estimated payments are not covered by these Orders. Penalties calculated on the 2019 IA 2210, 2210F, or 2210S (individuals) or 2019 IA 2220 (corporations and financial institutions subject to franchise tax) still must be paid with the Iowa return. The same outcome would apply to fiscal-year filers for tax years that began in 2018 or 2019 with due dates that fall within the period covered by Order 2020-01. Because estimated payments were specifically excluded from Order 2020-01, underpayment penalties due on required payments during the period covered by that order and those returns will still apply. Previously extended tax returns that have an extended due date on or after March 19, 2020, but before July 31, 2020, benefit from the filing extension to July 31, 2020. Note, however, that under Iowa law an automatic extension only extends the time to file a return, not to pay the tax. Therefore, taxpayers with tax due prior to March 19, 2020 may accrue interest on the balance of unpaid tax. The suspension of interest only applies to interest that accrues between March 19, 2020, and July 31, 2020. Order 2020-03 allows taxpayers to use their 2018 income tax liability (or 110% of their 2018 liability for high income taxpayers) to compute safe harbor estimates for 2020 estimated tax installment payments with a due date on or after April 30, 2020, and before July 31, 2020. For most individuals, this additional relief will apply to their 1st and 2nd quarter estimates for tax year 2020 due on or before April 30, 2020, and June 30, 2020. A taxpayer will not be subject to penalties for underpayment of estimated tax with respect to both installments due on April 30, 2020, and June 30, 2020, if the individual pays the following amounts for each installment payment: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>27.5% of their 2018 Iowa tax liability for a taxpayer whose 2018 federal adjusted gross income (as adjusted for any Iowa decoupling</li> </ul>	Under the bill's tax provisions, tax districts are authorized to suspend or extend return deadlines for taxable net profits or gross receipts during the state's declared emergency, which was issued March 6 and contains no stated end date. NJ – the legislation was passed by the legislature but not yet enacted. It would automatically extend time to file gross income tax or corporation business tax return if federal government extends filing or payment due date for federal returns. A-3841 legislation that was passed and is not yet signed by the Governor to extend the deadline to file tax returns and make payments for all New Jersey Business Corporation and Gross Income Tax Returns for GIT and CBT filers. PA – enacted - Act 10 of 2020, which extends the due date of certain personal income tax returns and payments, as well as waiving certain other income tax dates. Act 10 of 2020 also extends the deadline for the filing of 2019 local tax returns and payments to July 15, 2020. Proposed tax related Coronavirus legislation – DC

		including bonus depreciation/section 179 adjustment) is greater than $150,000, or greater than $75,000 for a married filing separate taxpayer; or 25% of their 2018 Iowa tax liability for any other taxpayer. As a result, for taxpayers who computed their tax year 2019 safe harbor estimates using their 2018 tax liability, and had no change in their withholding since 2019, their 1st and 2nd quarter safe harbor estimated payments for tax year 2020 will match their tax year 2019 required quarterly estimated payment. However, any taxpayer who takes advantage of the underpayment penalty relief provided in Order 2020-03 must add the remaining amount due for these installments to their next installment due on or after July 31, 2020. For most individuals, this will increase the required 3rd quarter estimate due September 30, 2020. Failure to pay the increased required installment by the taxpayer's first due date on or after July 31, 2020, will be considered an underpayment of estimated taxes for the installment. The relief granted in Order 2020-03 is available to any taxpayer required to make a tax year 2020 estimated income tax payment on or after April 30, 2020, but before July 31, 2020. If overpaid an installment, the overpayment will be carried to the next installment due. The underpayment of estimated tax penalty is calculated separately for each quarter. To avoid penalties, the taxpayer must timely pay at least 25% (or 27.5% for a high income taxpayer) of the 2018 income tax liability with the 1st quarter income tax estimate and by the due date of the 2nd quarter installment, the taxpayer must pay at least 50% (or 55% for a high income taxpayer) of the 2018 income tax liability, if the relief granted in Order 2020-03 is utilized. Individuals may be able to reduce or eliminate the amount of one or more of your required installments by using the annualized income installment method calculated on the IA 2210 Schedule AI. Individuals who cannot pay quarterly estimates may apply to the Department for a waiver of underpayment penalty. Deadlines for the IA 1041 Fiduciary Income Tax Return filed by estates and trusts are extended by the Order, but the Order does not extend payment and filing deadlines related to the IA 706 Inheritance Tax Return. The regular deadline for paying Iowa inheritance tax reported on an IA 706 is the last day of the 9th month following the death of the decedent. July 31 – MI – corporation return filing and payment extension. July 20 - HI – filing and payment of 2019 income tax returns (does not include 2020 estimated payments) extended for all Affected Taxpayers, the due date for filing 2019 State income tax returns due from April 20, 2020 to June 20, 2020 is postponed to July 20, 2020. The original filing and payment due date for partnerships remains April 15, 2020. On March 25th the IDOR posted the attached announcement on its website moving the "2019 income tax filing and payment deadlines for all taxpayers who file and pay their Illinois income taxes on April 15, 2020" to align with the federal due dates. The alert states that "this relief applies to all individual returns, trusts, and corporations" and does not mention partnerships. We followed up with the IDOR to see if the relief also applies to partnerships and partnership withholding. The IDOR replied today stating that it does NOT. The response states that they "are considering what relief can be afforded partnerships, if any. The bulletin was designed to align IL with federal deadlines that were extended from April 15 to July 15 using our authority under 100.5020 and 100.6000. The federal 1065 was due March 15, and no tax is paid with the informational return, so we have nothing to base an extension for the IL-1065 and payments." Estimated taxes were specifically excluded from the relief in Order 2020-01. The estimated tax underpayment penalty relief provided in Order 2020-03 only applies to certain estimated tax installments due for tax years that begin in 2020. For example, 2019 estimated tax payments for calendar year filers were due in four installments (e.g. April 30, June 30, September 30, January 31, 2020) and these penalties are imposed for failure to make adequate estimated payments on time. Those estimated payments are not covered by these Orders. Penalties calculated on the 2019 IA 2210, 2210F, or 2210S (individuals) or 2019 IA 2220 (corporations and financial institutions subject to franchise tax) still must be paid with the Iowa return. The same outcome would apply to fiscal-year filers for tax years that began in 2018 or 2019 with due dates that fall within the period covered by Order 2020-01. Because estimated payments were specifically excluded from Order 2020-01, underpayment penalties due on required payments during the period covered by that order and those returns will still apply. Therefore, taxpayers with tax due prior to March 19, 2020 may accrue interest on the balance of unpaid tax. The suspension of interest only applies to interest that accrues between March 19, 2020, and July 31, 2020. For example, a refund request related to tax previously paid with a 2016 individual income tax return filed on April 30, 2017, must be made on an amended individual income tax return no later than April 30, 2020, in order to be considered timely. The Order mentions estates and trusts, does the filing and payment extension affect IA 706 Inheritance Tax Returns? No. Deadlines for the IA 1041 Fiduciary Income Tax Return filed by estates and trusts are extended by the Order, but the Order does not extend payment and filing deadlines related to the IA 706 Inheritance Tax Return. As a result, Taxpayer A will not be subject to a penalty for underpayment of estimated tax for the 1st and 2nd quarter of 2020. Taxpayer A timely files a 2019 IA 1040 Iowa Individual Income Tax Return on July 31, 2020, showing a tax due of $7,500, and computes 2020 safe harbor quarterly estimates of 1,875 (i.e., <math>\$7,500 \times 0.25</math>) using Taxpayer A's 2019 Iowa return. The difference between these 2020 safe harbor estimates for the first two quarters (<math>\$1,875 \times 2 = \$3,750</math>) and the safe harbor payments Taxpayer A was required to pay pursuant to Order 2020-03 ($2,500) must be added to Taxpayer A's 3rd quarter safe harbor estimated payment for 2020. In other words, Taxpayer A adds $1,250 (i.e., <math>\$3,750 - \$2,500</math>) to the $1,875 3rd quarter installment, and therefore must pay at least $3,125 (i.e., <math>\$1,250 + \$1,875</math>) as a 3rd quarter estimate by September 30, 2020 in order to avoid an underpayment penalty for the 3rd quarter. Example 2: Taxpayer B is an individual with a 2018 federal adjusted gross income as modified for Iowa purposes of $300,000. Taxpayer B filed a 2018 IA 1040 Iowa Individual Income Tax Return that covered a period of 12 months, and showed a total tax due of $20,000. Taxpayer B also had a 2019 tax liability of $25,000 on Taxpayer B's 2019 Iowa individual income tax return. Taxpayer B's 1st installment of 2020 quarterly estimated tax is due on April 30, 2020. Taxpayer B pays $5,500 (i.e., <math>\$20,000 \times 0.275</math>) in estimated tax on or before the April 30, 2020, due date. Taxpayer B's 2nd installment of 2020 quarterly estimated tax is due on June 30, 2020. Taxpayer B pays $5,500 (i.e., <math>\$20,000 \times 0.275</math>) in estimated tax on or before the June 30, 2020, due date. As a result, Taxpayer B will not be subject to a penalty for underpayment of estimated tax for the 1st and 2nd quarter of 2020. Taxpayer B's 3rd installment of 2020 quarterly estimated tax is due on September 30, 2020. Taxpayer B pays $6,875 (i.e., <math>\$25,000 \times 0.275</math>) in estimated tax on September 30, 2020. Taxpayer B is subject to an underpayment penalty for the 3rd installment payment because Taxpayer B did not pay the additional estimated tax required under Order 2020-03. To avoid underpayment penalty, Taxpayer B should have added to the 3rd installment payment the difference between the 1st and 2nd required installment payments required without regard to the relief provided in Order 2020-03 (<math>\$6,875 \times 2 = \$13,750</math>) less the 1st and 2nd required installment payments required to be made under Order 2020-03

		(<math>\$5,500 \times 2 = \$11,000</math>). The underpayment penalty relief provided in Order 2020-03 is in addition to any existing underpayment penalty exceptions already provided by Iowa law. Does Order 2020-03 indicate that a taxpayer will not be assessed any estimated tax underpayment penalty if they pay 50% of the 2018 income tax liability with the 2nd installment? This is only true if the taxpayer also timely paid at least 25% (or 27.5% for a high income taxpayer) of the 2018 income tax liability with the 1st quarter income tax estimate. By the due date of the 2nd quarter installment the taxpayer must pay at least 50% (or 55% for a high income taxpayer) of the 2018 income tax liability, if the relief granted in Order 2020-03 is utilized. The underpayment of estimated tax penalty is calculated separately for each quarter. What relief is available if I believe my income for tax year 2020 will vary substantially between different quarters because of economic disruptions caused by COVID-19? Iowa law permits a taxpayer to compute estimated tax underpayment penalty using the annualized income installment method if your income varied during the year. You may be able to reduce or eliminate the amount of one or more of your required installments by using the annualized income installment method calculated on the IA 2210 Schedule AI. What if I cannot pay my quarterly estimates because of economic hardship caused by COVID-19? Individuals who cannot pay quarterly estimates may apply to the Department for a waiver of underpayment penalty. The penalty for underpayment of estimated tax may be waived in the following situations:

State	Guidance/Date	Guidance Relief Provisions for Coronavirus	Other Information
		A. The underpayment was due to casualty, disaster, or other unusual circumstances, or B. The underpayment was made by an individual who retired after having attained age 62, or who became disabled in the tax year for which the estimated payment was due or in the preceding tax year, and the underpayment was due to reasonable cause and not due to willful neglect. To apply for a waiver from the estimated income tax underpayment penalty, use the Penalty Waiver Request, 78-629. For more information on estimated income tax payments and underpayment penalties for individuals, see Estimated Income Tax Payments and Iowa Administrative Code Chapter 701—49. Specific to Corporations and Financial Institutions What safe harbors are available to corporations and financial institutions under Iowa statute and rule for estimated payments for tax year 2020? There are a number of statutory and rule-based safe harbor protections available for corporations and financial institutions making estimated payments of tax under Iowa law for tax year 2020. Corporations and financial institutions may avoid a penalty for underpayment of estimated tax if certain requirements are met, but unlike individuals, Iowa law does not allow corporations and financial institutions to apply for the two underpayment penalty waiver provisions described under the question “What if I cannot pay my quarterly estimates because of economic hardship caused by COVID-19?”. For details on the corporations and financial institutions underpayment penalty exceptions, see Iowa Code section 422.89 and Iowa Administrative Code rules 701—56.5(2) (corporations) and 701—61.5(2) (financial institutions). Is any additional relief available to corporations and financial institutions required to make tax year 2020 estimated payments due prior to July 31? Order 2020-03 allows taxpayers to use their 2018 income or franchise tax liability to compute safe harbor estimates for tax year 2020 installment payments with a due date on or after April 30, 2020, and before July 31, 2020. This relief is available to taxpayers that file on a calendar-year or fiscal-year basis, but it only applies to estimated payments due for a tax year beginning during calendar year 2020 (i.e. tax year 2020). However, any taxpayer who takes advantage of the underpayment penalty relief provided in Order 2020-03 must add the remaining amount due for these installments to their next installment due on or after July 31, 2020. Failure to pay the increased required installment by the taxpayer’s first due date on or after July 31, 2020, will be considered an underpayment of estimated taxes for the installment.

		Pursuant to Order 2020-03, corporations or financial institutions who filed a 2018 Iowa income tax return that covered a period of 12 months and showed an Iowa tax liability will not be subject to penalties for underpayment of estimated tax for tax year 2020 quarterly estimated payments with a due date on or after April 30, 2020, and before July 31, 2020, if the taxpayer pays at least 25% of the 2018 Iowa tax liability for each 2020 installment due during that period. Example 1: Corporation ABC, a calendar-year filer, filed a 2018 IA 1120 Iowa Corporate Income Tax Return with the Department showing a tax due of $50,000. Corporation ABC's 1st installment of 2020 quarterly estimated tax is due on April 30, 2020. Corporation ABC makes another installment payment of $12,500 in estimated tax prior to June 30, 2020. Corporation ABC will not be subject to a penalty for underpayment of estimated tax for the 1st and 2nd quarter of 2020. Corporation ABC timely files its 2019 IA 1120 Iowa Corporate Income Tax Return on July 31, 2020, showing a tax due of $60,000, and computes 2020 safe harbor quarterly estimates of $15,000 (i.e., <math>\$60,000 \times 0.25</math>) using its 2019 Iowa return. The difference between these 2020 safe harbor estimates for the 1st two quarters (<math>\$15,000 \times 2 = \$30,000</math>) and the safe harbor payments it was required to pay pursuant to Order 2020-03 ($25,000) must be added to its 3rd quarter safe harbor estimate payment for 2020. In other words, Corporation ABC adds $5,000 (i.e., <math>\$30,000 - \$25,000</math>) to its $15,000 3rd quarter installment, and therefore must pay at least $20,000 (i.e., <math>\$5,000 + \$15,000</math>) as a 3rd quarter estimate by September 30, 2020 in order to avoid an underpayment penalty for the 3rd quarter. Example 2: Corporation XYZ, a calendar-year filer, filed a 2018 IA 1120 Iowa Corporate Income Tax Return with the Department showing a tax due of $75,000. Corporation XYZ also had a 2019 tax liability of $160,000 on the 2019 IA 1120 Iowa Corporate Income Tax Return. Corporation XYZ's 1st installment of 2020 quarterly estimated tax is due on April 30, 2020. Corporation XYZ pays $18,750 (i.e., <math>\$75,000 \times 0.25</math>) in estimated tax on or before the June 30, 2020 due date. As a result, Corporation XYZ will not be subject to a penalty for underpayment of estimated tax for the 1st and 2nd quarter of 2020.

		Corporation XYZ's 3rd installment of 2020 quarterly estimated tax is due on September 30, 2020. These tax credits have different characteristics: refundable, nonrefundable, transferable, and nontransferable. Transferable credits are sold or exchanged between the person who earns the credit and a taxpayer who purchases and utilizes the credit on a Louisiana income or franchise tax return. In order for a taxpayer who purchases a credit to use the credit on a return, Louisiana law<sup>11</sup> requires that either (1) the effective date of the transfer of the tax credit or (2) the execution of a binding agreement to transfer the tax credit must occur on or before the due date of the return, without regard to any extension granted. Title 29<sup>12</sup> also grants the governor the authority in times of emergency or disasters to issue executive orders, proclamations, and regulations and to amend and rescind them related to the emergency or disaster. The statute also provides that any executive order, proclamation, or regulation issued during an emergency shall have the force and effect of law. Based upon general credits provisions of the applicable statute<sup>13</sup>, there exists no ability to extend the time for either the effective date of the transfer of a tax credit or the execution of a binding agreement to transfer the tax credit beyond the due date of the return for a taxable year. However, on March 13, 2020, Governor John Bel Edwards issued Proclamation JBE 2020-27 (the “Proclamation”) which provided additional measures for the COVID-19 public health emergency.	by one of the Field Audit Tax Divisions (Income, Sales, or Excise) and preliminary findings were issued. (April 6, 2020) - Comptroller Peter Franchot today urged Maryland taxpayers seeking refunds to file electronically as soon as possible and announced that the agency will temporarily stop processing paper tax returns on April 15, in an effort to keep essential employees safe amid the spread of COVID-19. "We remain committed to getting refunds into taxpayers' bank accounts during this economic crisis. However, we must balance that with our commitment to protecting the health of those dedicated essential employees who have continued reporting to work to process returns and distribute refunds in a timely manner," Comptroller Franchot said. Most taxpayers receiving refunds have already filed and the number of those anticipating refunds who have yet to do so and plan to file via paper returns is very low. The deadline for individuals and businesses to file and pay state income taxes was previously extended until July 15. To date, the number of both paper and electronic tax returns filed during the 2020 tax year has decreased from last year's totals at the same time period — a drop of 27 percent in paper returns and 7.5 percent in electronic filings.	On March 11, Treasury Secretary Mnuchin and President Trump announced that the Administration would instruct the IRS to extend the tax filing season for certain individuals and businesses affected by the coronavirus. It takes an average of 2.2 business days to process an electronically filed return compared to the average of 22 business days to process a paper return. The decision to temporarily stop processing paper returns after April 15 will further reduce the staff who are required to work on site. The tax rate for calendar year 2020 for each employer was determined based on a calculation using figures from 2019 and prior. IF AN EMPLOYEE OR FORMER EMPLOYEE RECEIVES UNEMPLOYMENT BENEFITS AS A RESULT OF A COVID-19-RELATED BUSINESS FULL OR PARTIAL SHUTDOWN, WILL THE EMPLOYER'S UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE TAX RATE INCREASE IN 2021? Maybe. Unemployment insurance benefits are proportionately charged to each employer based on the employee's earnings in their base period. Contributory employers may see an increase in their 2021 tax rate as a result of benefits paid due to COVID-19; however, tax rates are calculated based on benefits that have been charged to the employer account over the prior three (3) years, ending on June 30. Thus, any benefits paid due to coronavirus, COVID-19, from March to June will comprise four (4) months of the 36 months used to calculate the 2021 tax rate for employers. In the event that a process for employers to apply for a waiver of charging of any benefits paid due to coronavirus, COVID-19, additional information will be provided outlining the requirements. Is Maryland offering any relief to fiscal year income tax filers with due dates other than April 15, 2020? A4. Yes. Do I have to do anything to request the extended due dates? A5. No. The due dates listed above in Answer 3 are automatic extensions. You do not need to file any special request to take advantage of these extension dates. Q6. Maryland has extended the due date to file the first quarterly estimated income tax payment to July 15, 2020. What about the second quarter estimated payments due on June 15, 2020? Have they been postponed as well? A6. No, second quarter 2020 estimated income tax payments are still due on June 15, 2020. First quarter 2020 estimated income tax payments are postponed from April 15 to July 15, 2020. I haven't filed my 2019 income tax return that would have been due on April 15 yet, but I expect to file it by July 15. What do I need to do? A8. 		you expect a refund, you are encouraged to file your return as soon as you can so that you can receive your refund. Filing electronically with direct deposit is the quickest way to get refunds. If you need more time beyond July 15 to file your return, request an automatic federal extension of time to file, and you will automatically be granted a Maryland extension of time to file. See Answer 9 for additional information on tax filing extensions. Q9. What if I am unable to file my 2019 income tax return that would have been due on April 15 by July 15, 2020? A9. If no tax is due and you requested a federal extension, you do not need to file a Form PV, 500E, or take any other action to obtain an automatic extension to October 15 for individuals, and to November 15 for corporations. Please note, the deadline to file a federal extension is generally April 15. Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the deadline to request an extension to file 2019 federal taxes has also been extended to July 15, 2020. However, the extension due date remains October 15, 2020 for individuals, and November 15, 2020 for corporations. For individuals who request a federal extension by July 15, 2020, the Maryland tax return is due by October 15, 2020. For corporations who request a federal extension by July 15, 2020, the Maryland tax return is due by November 15, 2020. For more information on federal filing deadlines, please consult guidance issued by the IRS. Q10. Is the Comptroller's relief available to non-residents required to file Maryland returns? A10. Yes, the extension of time to file and pay extends to both residents and non-residents who are required to file Maryland returns. Q11. The IRS has imposed certain income limitations on federal income tax relief related to COVID19. Do those income limitations apply to Maryland COVID-19 tax relief? A11. I will continue working around the clock to help our families and businesses get through this time.”  The new filing and payment deadlines come after the Internal Revenue Service changed its deadline to July 15 to provide tax assistance due to the COVID-19 pandemic. For the benefit and convenience of taxpayers, both the beginning and end of the state of Michigan and city of Detroit income tax filing season are the same as the IRS.  “Our priority is for you to focus on your health, safety and welfare during this emergency,” State Treasurer Rachael Eubanks said.  “Taxpayers now have more time to file their state and city income taxes. However, if you are entitled to a refund, please don’t wait to file your taxes so you can receive that refund.”  State and city of Detroit individual income tax returns can be filed online or mailed through the U.S. Postal Service. Tax returns received after the July 15 deadline may face penalties and interest.  “Keeping Detroiters safe and providing peace of mind is our top concern during this time,” said Dave Massaron, Detroit’s Chief Financial Officer. “We fully support this extension for the Detroit City income tax filing deadline and thank the Michigan Department of Treasury for implementing this change.”  Taxpayers can go to www.mifastfile.org to learn about available options for e-filing for free or for a fee. The automatic 7-month extension of the time to file the tax year 2019 return will be measured from the April 15, 2020 due date and will therefore be due no later than November 15, 2020. Relief is available for certain BPT, BET and I&amp;D taxpayers who are impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic and unable to pay the amount due on April 15, 2020. Those qualifying taxpayers will have until June 15, 2020 to remit payment without typical penalties and interest. This extended due date is in addition to the expansion of the qualifications for the automatic extension and the estimate payment safe harbor. Taxpayers who qualify for this specific relief are Business Tax taxpayers who owed $50,000 or less in taxes (total BPT and BET tax liability) for tax year 2018 and I&amp;D taxpayers who owed $10,000 or less in taxes for tax year 2018. It was also one of two legislative priorities identified by OSCPA members and leadership as the state and federal government began working in earnest over the past two weeks to contain the outbreak. On March 22, Ohio Department of Health Director Amy Acton, MD, MPH, signed a “stay at home” order that ruled that several key businesses and services, including accounting services, may continue as an essential business function. 		(HB197) - all of our payment dates, not just state income tax, were extended. All taxes under the Tax Commissioner's control. Here is the tax related component: "Expressly authorizes the Tax Commissioner to extend state tax filing and payment deadlines for the duration of the Governor's COVID-19 emergency declaration and to waive associated interest and penalties for taxpayers affected by the emergency. Also applies to school district income taxes, municipal income taxes administered by the state, and certain fees administered by the Department of Taxation. Specifies that, for municipal income tax purposes, employees who must report to a temporary worksite (including their home) during the emergency period, or within 30 days thereafter, are considered to be working at their otherwise principal place of work (which, by law, is where the employee reports for work on "a regular and ordinary basis"). This affects which municipal corporation the employer must withhold income taxes for, which municipal corporation may tax the employee's pay, and whether and how much of the employer's own income is subject to a municipality's income tax. (Under current law, an employee may work in a municipality for up to 20 days per year without the employee becoming subject to that municipality's income tax and the employer becoming subject to that municipality's tax withholding requirements. And, if an employee does not exceed the 20-day threshold, that employee's pay is not counted toward the business's payroll factor, one of three factors--along with property and sales--that determines whether, and the extent to which, an employer's own income is subject to the municipality's tax on net profits." Ohio just passed legislation (HB 197) addressing this issue with respect to their municipal income taxes: SECTION 29. OSCPA is urging the Tax Commissioner to also extend the due dates for first and second quarter estimated payments. The federal government has only extended the first quarter to date. The municipal income tax due dates for individuals are tied to the state filing deadline, so the cities' deadlines will automatically extend when the state extension takes place. Because many employees are working from home, H.B. 197 also keeps the status quo for withholding to the employee's principal place of work (despite the "20-day rule") during the emergency period, or within 30 days thereafter. H.B. 197 includes an emergency clause so all provisions will become effective immediately upon signature. Other provisions of the bill would: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Bar disconnection of public water service.</li> <li>• Extend voting by mail to allow counting of absentee ballots postmarked by April 28.</li> <li>• Make allowances for people whose licenses of various kinds will expire during the emergency.</li> </ul>

			occurring in other states, we suspect you may be considering a shelter-in-place order. While health care, utilities, grocery stores and public safety are clearly essential services, we request that you consider including professional accounting services as an essential service should you issue a shelter-in-place order. Accounting services are critical to the financial markets, especially when considering legally mandated activities. Further, a precedent has been set in other states; for example, accounting is included as an essential service in NY and CA, two states that already have issued shelter in-place orders. The following points illustrate why accounting services should be considered essential: 1. Accountants provide tax preparation services for individuals and businesses. While most Ohio CPAs are now working from home to address client needs, it is a challenge. Our members are recommending extensions as much as possible, but they also are working hard to file as many returns as possible for clients getting a refund. A majority of Ohioans require the help of a tax expert to complete and file an accurate return – even extensions. The reality is that in many cases CPAs working from home during this time occasionally must go into their office to scan, copy and mail tax documents to clients – particularly for seniors who don't use email. Today, this can even mean that CPAs need to stop by a senior's residence to pick up documents since they can't safely leave their home to mail documents. 2. Banks and other lenders require current financial statements and information when reviewing loan requests or a financial restructuring. These requests are likely to

			increase as a result of the current COVID-19 crisis. Now more than ever, business owners need easy access to their CPA. 3. Accounting professionals handle critical and sensitive information, requiring robust cybersecurity systems. While very large companies operate in paperless systems with secure remote access, there are many small to midsize companies and individuals that continue to use paper documents. Even if all these documents could be digitally transmitted, cybersecurity remains a concern. Accounting firms have office IT systems in place for managing and protecting consumers' data; these systems aren't always as sophisticated (and, in some parts of the state, readily available) in a home-office environment. 4. Businesses are facing difficult decisions due to the major disruption caused by COVID-19. More than ever, business owners will rely on their CPAs to provide analysis and advice that allows them to make vital decisions, meet their contractual obligations, pay their employees and - ultimately - stay in business. 5. The services provided by accounting professionals are used across the entire state. By naming them as essential, many communities are and will continue to be served. We are in an environment where the rules are changing day-to-day. We need calm and rational approaches to the problems ahead of us. By including the accounting profession as essential, you are ensuring that a key resource will be available to individuals and businesses to help them make the critical financial decisions they will face.” OSCPA website posting urging extend the Ohio filing date to 7/15 – (3/20/20)  “Please urge Ohio officials to act immediately to extend the state and local April 15 filing deadlines to July 15

			On March 20 U.S. Treasury Secretary Mnuchin announced the federal government has moved the April 15 FILING deadline to July 15. He previously announced the payment deadline had been moved to July 15. We now need the State of Ohio to move its own filing deadline from April 15 to July 15 waiving any penalties and interest during that time, and doing all it can to have Ohio municipalities do the same.” (3/20/20) OSCPA second letter to the governor requesting extended filing and payment. (3/18/20) “Thank you again for your outreach to The Ohio Society of CPAs regarding challenges expected in the Ohio business community resulting from the COVID-19 pandemic and steps the State of Ohio could take to mitigate that impact. I want to build on OSCPAs March 13 communication urging a postponement of Ohio income tax filing and payment deadlines and encourage Ohio to follow extensions made at the federal level. Yesterday, President Trump announced the federal government is delaying by 90 days any required payments for 2019 income tax returns, and no penalties or interests on those tax obligations for 90 days. Pursuant to Notice 2020-17, the federal government is unfortunately maintaining the April 15th due date for filing returns or extensions. Despite the federal government’s position, we strongly urge that the State of Ohio NOT conform with the April 15th filing date, and instead defer by 90 days both the filing and payment due dates, and waiver of any related penalties and interest during that time. We make this recommendation for three primary reasons: 1) Based on R.C. 718.05(G)(1)(a), the municipal deadline is tied to the state of Ohios

			filing deadline and has nothing to do with the payment deadline. a. If Ohio does not extend the filing deadline, over 600 different local taxing jurisdictions could have 600 different interpretations of a payment deadline extension, and some will still try to assess penalties and interest for payments after April 15th anyway. b. If Ohio does not extend the filing deadline, a municipality could say that 718.05(G)(1)(a) applies to both filing and payment, and if the State chooses not to assess under their own administrative policy it does not bind a municipality to do the same. 2) Form 4868 (the federal extension form) will still be due by April 15th, which means the actual computations will still need to be done in order to file an accurate extension for October 15th. a. Obtaining an extension is relatively easy, but all the work preparing the actual request itself is what takes up much of the tax preparers' time and effort. b. Delaying the payment deadline is beneficial to the taxpayer and economy. If the filing deadline is also not extended, then tax preparers will be spending as much time, if not more, attempting to obtain extensions until October 15th. 3) The process of preparing accurate returns or extensions often involves face-to-face meetings of tax preparers and clients which is highly being discouraged at this time. All nonessential businesses have been encouraged to close operations or send their employees to work from home.

			a. There's an extremely high level of stress within the tax preparation community today. March, in the best of years, is a challenging month. Many of our members are attempting to follow state directives by fully going remote with their workforces for the first time. This new workplace uncertainty has is making it very difficult to meet existing deadlines. b. When you add in the challenges of children at home due to school closures and the likelihood that daycares will soon close, CPAs who typically would be working 12-hour days are unable to do so. Many are trying to get their clients' tax forms completed when they find themselves working from their kitchen tables with spotty internet connections and clients who cannot access needed information. While we recognize that extending a major tax due date and related payments creates difficulties for government entities, we believe the significant challenges created by the pandemic merit the State of Ohio doing just that. Please take these points into consideration and grant an extension of time to both filings and payments. Thank you both for the leadership you are providing our state and all Ohioans during these unprecedented times. 		Although the filing deadline has been extended, the Department of Revenue is encouraging taxpayers who are able to file their returns electronically to do so. This will enable the department to continue to process returns as commonwealth offices are closed. Additionally, if you are expecting a refund from the commonwealth, filing electronically will help avoid a delay in the release of your refund. Padirectfile Taxpayers can electronically file their Pennsylvania tax returns for free through Padirectfile, a secure, state-only electronic income tax filing system that is available through the Department of Revenue's website. For more information or to begin filing, visit Padirectfile. Electronic Filing for Free Free electronic filing options are available to file state and federal returns using software from a reputable vendor (income limits may apply). More vendor information is available on the Department of Revenue's website. Electronic Filing for a Fee Paid tax preparers and commercial tax preparation software providers that offer electronic filing, or e-filing, for a fee are an option for Pennsylvania taxpayers. E-filing offers advantages not available to taxpayers filing by paper, including error-reducing automatic calculators, instant confirmation of successful filing, faster refund processing and direct deposit options. July 15 Deadline All taxpayers who received more than $33 in total gross taxable income in calendar year 2019 must file a Pennsylvania personal income tax return (PA-40) by midnight on Wednesday, July 15, 2020. Estimated Payments The deadline for taxpayers who make quarterly estimated personal income tax payments is also extended to July 15, 2020. That means estimated payments for the first and second quarters of 2020 will be due by July 15, 2020. Any individual who expects to receive more than $8,000 of Pennsylvania-taxable income not subject to withholding by a Pennsylvania employer must estimate and pay personal income tax quarterly. Estimated tax due dates for individuals are typically April 15, June 15, Sept. 15 and Jan. 15, or the first following business day if any deadline falls on a weekend or holiday. Filing for an Extension If additional time to file is needed, taxpayers still have the option to file a request for an extension to file their Pennsylvania personal income tax return. The extension is available for up to six months. As an important reminder, an extension of time to file does not extend the deadline to make a payment if you owe taxes to the commonwealth.

		Paper Filing  Although the Department of Revenue is strongly encouraging taxpayers to electronically submit their personal income tax returns, taxpayers who file paper returns will still be able to do so. The returns will be considered timely filed as long as they are postmarked on or before the new deadline of July 15, 2020. Taxpayers who do submit their returns via paper should know that there will be delays in the processing of their returns, due to the fact that Department of Revenue's offices are closed as part of mitigation efforts to help prevent the spread of COVID-19. This could impact the processing of a taxpayer's refund if they are expecting one. Appeal Deadline  Because commonwealth offices are currently closed to help prevent the spread of COVID-19, there will be additional time in certain cases for taxpayers who wish to appeal a tax assessment issued by the Department of Revenue or file a petition for a tax refund with the Board of Appeals. A petition for appeals of all tax types will be accepted as timely filed if it is filed by the later of the following dates: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• 30 days after the reopening of the Board of Appeals offices; or</li> <li>• The original appeal deadline.</li> </ul> Please know that If the appeal deadline fell on a date prior to the closure of commonwealth offices (March 16, 2020), the original appeal deadline is still applicable. Visit the Board of Appeals' Online Petition Center for further information on tax appeals. Reach the Department of Revenue Online  With the Department of Revenue's call centers closed due to the mitigation efforts to help prevent the spread of COVID-19, the Department of Revenue is encouraging taxpayers to use its Online Customer Service Center, available at revenue-pa.custhelp.com. You can use this resource to electronically submit a question to a department representative. 	(July 15 – the deadline for extended tax filings and payments, normally due April 15, has been postponed to July 15 – for resident and non-resident individuals and fiduciaries (estates and trusts income taxes) and C corporations and for first quarter estimated payments. No penalties and no interest will apply to those who file on or before July 15, 2020. No late charges will apply to those who file and pay by the new deadline of July 15, 2020, regardless of the amount. Individuals can defer Rhode Island resident and nonresident personal income tax returns and personal income tax payments, normally due on April 15, 2020, to July 15, 2020, without penalties and interest, regardless of the amount owed. Similarly, certain business entities can defer Rhode Island returns and tax payments, normally due April 15, 2020, to July 15, 2020, without penalties and interest, regardless of the amount owed. The new deadline applies not only to resident and nonresident Rhode Island personal income tax returns and payments for the 2019 tax year, but also to Rhode Island personal income tax extensions related to the 2019 tax year that would normally be filed by April 15, 2020. The new deadline also applies to Rhode Island property-tax relief claims filed on Form RI-1040H and to claims for the residential lead abatement tax credit filed on Form RI-6238 that would normally be due on April 15, 2020. No penalties and no interest will apply to those who file on or before July 15, 2020. “These are difficult times for everyone. That is why the United States Treasury, the Internal Revenue Service, and the Rhode Island Division of Taxation have extended the deadline, normally April 15, to July 15 this year,” said Rhode Island Tax Administrator Neena Savage. Although the deadline for filing certain tax returns and making certain tax payments has been automatically postponed by three months, the Rhode Island Division of Taxation urges tax preparers and taxpayers to file their returns before the new deadline where possible. Filing and paying sooner provides the State with essential funding during this crisis and allows the Governor, the General Assembly, and other State decision-makers to plan and protect Rhode Island’s economy. This will give extra time to file and pay for everyone – especially those preparers and taxpayers who are directly affected by the coronavirus. However, although they can wait until July 15 to file and pay, the Division urges preparers and taxpayers who are in a position to do so to file and pay before the July 15 deadline – for several reasons. Those who are due refunds can receive them more quickly by filing as soon as possible. In addition, those who have a balance due can do their part in helping to ensure that the State of Rhode Island continues to have the financial resources necessary to fund critical services that are so essential to the health and wellbeing of all Rhode Islanders, and will aid the State in planning for and protecting the State’s economy. Details of relief announced Individuals can defer Rhode Island resident and nonresident personal income tax returns and personal income tax payments, normally due on April 15, 2020, to July 15, 2020, without penalties and interest, regardless of the amount owed. If you are due a refund, the fastest way to get it is to e-file. Filing early for your refund also helps prevent refund fraud. The new deadline applies not only to resident and nonresident Rhode Island personal income tax returns and payments for the 2019 tax year, but also to Rhode Island personal income tax extensions related to the 2019 tax year that would normally be filed by April 15, 2020. The new deadline also applies to Rhode Island property-tax relief claims filed on Form RI-1040H and to claims for the residential lead abatement tax credit filed on Form RI-6238 that would normally be due on April 15, 2020. In addition, the new deadline applies to fiduciary income tax returns and payments filed by estates and trusts related to the 2019 tax year that would normally be due on April 15, 2020. Trump on March 27, 2020. (See H.R. 748 -- U.S. Public Law PL 116-136). The new law refers to the payments not as "economic impact payments" or "stimulus payments" but instead as "recovery rebates". As a public service, the Rhode Island Division of Taxation provides the following modified version of the IRS's questions and answers about the payments.<sup>2</sup> Q: Who is eligible for the economic impact payment?  Federal income tax filers with federal adjusted gross income up to $75,000 for individuals and up to $150,000 for married couples filing joint returns will receive the full payment. For federal tax filers with income above those amounts, the payment amount is reduced by $5 for each $100 above the $75,000/$150,000 thresholds. Single filers with income exceeding $99,000 and $198,000 for joint filers with no children are not eligible.

		Eligible taxpayers who filed tax returns for either the 2019 or 2018 tax years will automatically receive an economic impact payment of up to $1,200 for individuals or $2,400 for married couples. Parents also receive $500 for each qualifying child. Q: How will the IRS know where to send my payment? The vast majority of people do not need to take any action. The IRS will calculate and automatically send the economic impact payment to those eligible. For people who have already filed their 2019 federal income tax returns, the IRS will use this information to calculate the payment amount. For those who have not yet filed their federal income tax return for 2019, the IRS will use information from their 2018 federal income tax filing to calculate the payment. The economic impact payment will be deposited directly into the same bank or credit union account reflected on the federal income tax return filed. Q: The IRS does not have my direct deposit information. What can I do? In the coming weeks, the United States Treasury plans to develop a web-based portal for individuals to provide their banking information to the IRS online, so that individuals can receive payments immediately instead of waiting to receive a check in the mail. Q: What about people who receive Social Security benefits but who do not ordinarily file a federal income tax return? They need not take any action. The economic stimulus payment will be automatically sent to them. They will receive the economic stimulus payment by the same method they receive their Social Security benefits. (For example, Social Security beneficiaries who receive their benefits by direct deposit, into their bank or credit union account, will receive their federal economic stimulus payment the same way.) 2 IR-2020-61, March 30, 2020. About the Security Summit The Security Summit consists of the IRS, state tax agencies, and the tax community -- including tax preparation firms, software developers, processors of payroll and tax financial products, tax professional organizations, and financial institutions.

I am not typically required to file a federal income tax return. Can I still receive my payment? Yes. People (other than Social Security recipients) who typically do not file a federal income tax return will need to file a simple federal income tax return to receive an economic impact payment. For example, low-income taxpayers, some veterans, and certain others (who are not Social Security recipients) will need to file a simple federal income tax return to receive an economic impact payment.<sup>3</sup> Remember: Social Security recipients who are not typically required to file a federal income tax return do not need to file a federal return and do not need to take any other action; they will receive their payment automatically, in the same way they normally receive their Social Security benefits. Q: If I do not typically have to file a federal income tax return, but I have to file one to receive my economic impact payment, how will I do it? IRS.gov/coronavirus will soon provide information instructing people in such circumstances on how to file a 2019 federal income tax return with simple, but necessary, information -- including their filing status, number of dependents, and direct deposit bank account information. Remember: Social Security recipients who are not typically required to file a federal income tax return do not need to file a federal return and do not need to take any other action; they will receive their payment automatically, in the same way they normally receive their Social Security benefits.

		Q: What about people who receive Railroad Retirement Benefits and who typically are not required to file a federal income tax return each year? People who receive a Form RRB-1099 and who are not required to file a federal income tax return will receive their economic impact payments automatically, in the same way that they receive their Railroad Retirement Benefits (such as by direct deposit into their bank or credit union account). The IRS will use the information on such a person's Form RRB-1099 to automatically generate the economic impact payment for that person. 3 The economic impact payments are federal payments. Can I still receive an economic impact payment? Yes. The IRS urges those with a tax filing obligation who have not yet filed a federal income tax return for 2018 or 2019 to file a federal income tax return as soon as they can to receive an economic impact payment. 		Raimondo on March 20, 2020, involving the April 15, 2020, deadline for certain tax filings and tax payments, the Rhode Island Division of Taxation announced today details about the filing deadline and the payment deadline for individuals and certain entities in light of the coronavirus pandemic (COVID-19). In general, the relief provides three additional months to file returns and pay balances due. No penalties and no interest will apply to those who file on or before July 15, 2020. “These are difficult times for everyone. That is why the United States Treasury, the Internal Revenue Service, and the Rhode Island Division of Taxation have extended the deadline, normally April 15, to July 15 this year,” said Rhode Island Tax Administrator Neena Savage. Although the deadline for filing certain tax returns and making certain tax payments has been automatically postponed by three months, the Rhode Island Division of Taxation urges tax preparers and taxpayers to file their returns before the new deadline where possible. Filing and paying sooner provides the State with essential funding during this crisis and allows the Governor, the General Assembly, and other State decision-makers to plan and protect Rhode Island’s economy. This will give extra time to file and pay for everyone – especially those preparers and taxpayers who are directly affected by the coronavirus. However, although they can wait until July 15 to file and pay, the Division urges preparers and taxpayers who are in a position to do so to file and pay before the July 15 deadline – for several reasons. Those who are due refunds can receive them more quickly by filing as soon as possible. In addition, those who have a balance due can do their part in helping to ensure that the State of Rhode Island continues to have the financial resources necessary to fund critical services that are so essential to the health and wellbeing of all Rhode Islanders, and will aid the State in planning for and protecting the State’s economy. Details of relief announced Individuals can defer Rhode Island resident and nonresident personal income tax returns and personal income tax payments, normally due on April 15, 2020, to July 15, 2020, without penalties and interest, regardless of the amount owed. However, due to the coronavirus pandemic, they have until July 15, 2020, to file their return and pay their balance due of $1,000. No penalties and no interest will apply to their $1,000 unpaid balance through July 15, 2020. If they fail to pay their $1,000 balance due on or before July 15, 2020, late charges will accrue for the period beginning July 16, 2020. The Division urges taxpayers to have their returns filed electronically. E-filed returns are processed more quickly than paper returns. There are fewer errors. Also, e-filing is the only way to have your refund deposited directly into your bank account (assuming a complete and accurate return is filed), Savage said. Direct deposit is not available for returns filed on paper. The Division also notes that if you are due a refund, you should file your return as quickly as possible – to get money into your hands as quickly as possible during this difficult time. If you are due a refund, the fastest way to get it is to e-file. Filing early for your refund also helps prevent refund fraud.

Recently the IRS issued tax relief for partnerships filing amended returns. COVID Relief for taxpayers claiming NOLs Revenue Procedure 2020-24 (PDF) provides guidance to taxpayers with net operating losses that are carried back under the CARES Act by providing procedures for: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• waiving the carryback period in the case of a net operating loss arising in a taxable year beginning after Dec. 31, 2017, and before Jan. 1, 2021,</li> <li>• disregarding certain amounts of foreign income subject to transition tax that would normally have been included as income during the five-year carryback period, and</li> <li>• waiving a carryback period, reducing a carryback period, or revoking an election to waive a carryback period for a taxable year that began before Jan. 1, 2018, and ended after Dec. 31, 2017.</li> </ul> Six month extension of time for filing NOL forms In Notice 2020-26 (PDF), the IRS grants a six-month extension of time to file Form 1045 or Form 1139, as applicable, with respect to the carryback of a net operating loss that arose in any taxable year that began during calendar year 2018 and that ended on or before June 30, 2019. Partnerships filing these amended returns should write “FILED PURSUANT TO REV PROC 2020-23” at the top of the amended return.” (4/9/20)	“While the AICPA appreciates the relief announced today, we continue to urge Treasury and IRS to develop a contingency plan for the next phase of relief should that be needed. As a country, we should not risk anyone’s life to meet tax filing obligations.” On April 7th, the AICPA urged Treasury Secretary Mnuchin in a letter to immediately expand the tax-related relief to all types of returns and payments. On March 27th, the AICPA submitted a letter to Treasury and the IRS requesting that all Federal income tax, information returns, and payments originally due between March 3, 2020 and July 15, 2020 be granted additional time to file and pay until July 15, 2020. To protect the public and employees, and in compliance with orders of local health authorities around the country, certain IRS services such as live assistance on telephones, processing paper tax returns and responding to correspondence are extremely limited or suspended until further notice. All Taxpayer Assistance Centers remain temporarily closed as are many volunteer tax preparation sites until further notice. This will not affect the IRS’s ability to deliver Economic Impact Payments, which taxpayers will begin receiving next week. Although the tax filing deadline has been extended to July 15, 2020, from April 15, the IRS continues to process electronic tax returns,

Last month, the IRS announced that taxpayers generally have until July 15, 2020, to file and pay federal income taxes originally due on April 15. No late-filing penalty, late-payment penalty or interest will be due. Today’s notice expands this relief to additional returns, tax payments and other actions. As a result, the extensions generally now apply to all taxpayers that have a filing or payment deadline falling on or after April 1, 2020, and before July 15, 2020. Individuals, trusts, estates, corporations and other non-corporate tax filers qualify for the extra time. This means that anyone, including Americans who live and work abroad, can now wait until July 15 to file their 2019 federal income tax return and pay any tax due. Extension of time to file beyond July 15  Individual taxpayers who need additional time to file beyond the July 15 deadline can request an extension to Oct. 15, 2020, by filing Form 4868 through their tax professional, tax software or using the Free File link on IRS.gov. Businesses who need additional time must file Form 7004. An extension to file is not an extension to pay any taxes owed. Taxpayers requesting additional time to file should estimate their tax liability and pay any taxes owed by the July 15, 2020, deadline to avoid additional interest and penalties. Estimated Tax Payments  Besides the April 15 estimated tax payment previously extended, today’s notice also extends relief to estimated tax payments due June 15, 2020. This means that any individual or corporation that has a quarterly estimated tax payment due on or after April 1, 2020, and before July 15, 2020, can wait until July 15 to make that payment, without penalty.	Over the last month, the AICPA has advocated on behalf of taxpayers and their advisors to provide relief in the midst of uncertainty during these unprecedented and challenging times: March 11 – the AICPA called for the Treasury Department and the IRS to provide relief to all taxpayers in light of the uncertainty and challenges caused by the spread of the coronavirus. March 13 – the AICPA expressed great concern that the Treasury and IRS had not yet announced a tax filing extension given the impending tax return deadline of March 15th for many businesses. March 13 – following a national emergency declaration, the AICPA urged the IRS to announce specific details regarding the extension of impending filing and payment deadlines. March 18 – AICPA President &amp; CEO, Barry Melancon, CPA, released a statement in response to Treasury’s announcement of interest and penalty relief, but not tax filing relief. March 19 – the AICPA expressed support for legislation sponsored by Senator John Thune to grant taxpayers a filing deadline extension until July 15th. March 20 – the AICPA publicly thanked members of Congress and the Treasury Department for April 15th tax filing extension. March 25 – the AICPA called on Treasury and the IRS to provide more extensive relief to taxpayers. March 27 – the AICPA urged Treasury and the IRS to provide broader tax filing and payment relief. April 2 – following the IRS announcement of temporary closures of critical services, the AICPA expressed urgency in providing broader tax filing and payment relief. Melancon closed the letter by stating, “While we immediately need broad relief until July 15, we continue to urge Treasury and IRS to

		The Internal Revenue Service today urged taxpayers to be on the lookout for a surge of calls and email phishing attempts about the Coronavirus, or COVID-19. These contacts can lead to tax-related fraud and identity theft. “We urge people to take extra care during this period. The IRS isn’t going to call you asking to verify or provide your financial information so you can get an economic impact payment or your refund faster,” said IRS Commissioner Chuck Rettig. “That also applies to surprise emails that appear to be coming from the IRS. Remember, don’t open them or click on attachments or links. Go to IRS.gov for the most up-to-date information.” Taxpayers should watch not only for emails but text messages, websites and social media attempts that request money or personal information. “History has shown that criminals take every opportunity to perpetrate a fraud on unsuspecting victims, especially when a group of people is vulnerable or in a state of need,” said IRS Criminal Investigation Chief Don Fort. “While you are waiting to hear about your economic impact payment, criminals are working hard to trick you into getting their hands on it. The IRS Criminal Investigation Division is working hard to find these scammers and shut them down, but in the meantime, we ask people to remain vigilant.” Don’t fall prey to Coronavirus tricks; retirees among potential targets The IRS and its Criminal Investigation Division have seen a wave of new and evolving phishing schemes against taxpayers. In most cases, the IRS will deposit economic impact payments into the direct deposit account taxpayers previously provided on tax returns. Those taxpayers who have previously filed but not provided direct deposit information to the IRS will be able to provide their banking information online to a newly designed secure portal on IRS.gov in mid-April. Taxpayers should not provide their direct deposit or other banking information for others to input on their behalf into the secure portal. The IRS also reminds retirees who don’t normally have a requirement to file a tax return that no action on their part is needed to receive their $1,200 economic impact payment. Seniors should be especially careful during this period. They must recognize that it’s impractical, if not impossible, for tax preparers to continue business as usual when IRS’s own operations are minimally operable.” In a letter on March 26th, the AICPA noted there are several outstanding issues including: Other forms and elections: The due dates of additional forms and elections, such as the election to be taxed as a small business, need additional time. Individual and corporate estimated payments: The first quarter individual and corporate estimates, which are typically due on April 15th, were deferred to July 15th. On Monday, the IRS announced that they would temporarily accept digital signatures on certain documents to protect their employees. Workers may receive up to 80 hours of paid sick leave for their own health needs or to care for others and up to an additional ten weeks of paid family leave to care for a child whose school or place of care is closed or child care provider is closed or unavailable due to COVID-19 precautions. Kautter and Rettig: The American Institute of CPAs (AICPA) appreciates the efforts by the Department of the Treasury (“Treasury”) and the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) to provide filing and payment relief to taxpayers affected by the Coronavirus Disease 2019 pandemic (commonly known as “Coronavirus” or “COVID-19”) through Notice 2020-18 (or “Notice”) and the accompanying frequently asked questions (FAQs). In light of the uncertainty and severe challenges caused by the spread of the Coronavirus pandemic, it is not possible for many taxpayers and tax preparers to calculate all payments and prepare and file various returns. We urge Treasury and the IRS act immediately to provide broader tax filing and payment relief for taxpayers affected by the ongoing pandemic. Specifically, we request that all Federal income tax, information returns, and payments (e.g., installments and estimated payments) originally due between March 3, 2020 and July 15, 2020 are granted additional time to file and pay until July 15, 2020. We also request further guidance and clarification regarding Notice 2020-18.

Unfortunately, the important relief provided by this notice does not apply to all filings and payments affected by COVID-19. In contrast, when the President invokes the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act (“Stafford Act”), taxpayers are typically granted broad payment and filing relief under section 7508A1 of the Internal Revenue Code. The most recent example of this broad relief was provided by the IRS to the victims of the Tennessee tornadoes, which recognized the victims’ inability to comply with their various tax obligations.<sup>2</sup> 1 Unless otherwise indicated, references to a “section” are to a section of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”), and references to a “Treas. However, relief comparable to that provided to individuals and businesses in Tennessee has not been allowed for taxpayers and tax advisers who are actively working to comply with the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention’s and World Health Organization’s safety measures to prevent the spread of the Coronavirus disease. At a minimum, Treasury and the IRS should offer generous and immediate reasonable cause relief for the filing of any tax returns, information returns, elections, correspondence, or payments not covered under the Notice but affected by COVID-19.

BACKGROUND The Families First Coronavirus Response Act (the Act), P.L. 116-127, 134 Stat. 178, was enacted on March 18, 2020. Division C (Emergency Family and Medical Leave Expansion Act) and Division E (Emergency Paid Sick Leave Act) of the Act require certain employers to provide expanded family and medical leave and paid sick leave to employees unable to work or telework due to certain circumstances related to COVID-19. The Emergency Family and Medical Leave Expansion Act and Emergency Paid Sick Leave Act are administered by the U.S. Department of Labor (DOL). Division G (Tax Credits for Paid Sick and Paid Family and Medical Leave) of the Act provides for a credit against the tax imposed by section 3111(a) or 3221(a) of the Internal Revenue Code (Code) for each calendar quarter in an amount equal to 100 percent of the “qualified sick leave wages” and “qualified family leave wages” required to be paid under the Act (or the equivalent amounts thereof for certain self-employed individuals). Specifically, sections 7001 and 7003 of Division G of the Act provide for refundable tax credits for most employers with fewer than 500 employees that pay qualified sick leave wages and qualified family leave wages to their employees, as required by the Emergency Paid Sick Leave Act and the Emergency Family and Medical Leave Expansion Act. Sections 7002 and 7004 of Division G of the Act also provide comparable credits for self-employed individuals carrying on any trade or business within the meaning of section 1402 of the Code if the self-employed individual would be entitled to receive paid leave under the Emergency Paid Sick Leave Act or the Emergency Family and Medical Leave Expansion Act if the individual were an employee of an employer (other than him or herself). Sections 7001(g) and 7003(g) of Division G of the Act provide that the tax credits for employers for qualified sick leave wages and qualified family leave wages “apply only to wages paid with respect to the period beginning on a date selected by the Secretary of the Treasury (or the Secretary’s delegate) which is during the 15-day period beginning on the date of the enactment of this Act, and ending on December 31, 2020.” Section 3106 of Division C and Section 5108 of Division E of the Act provide that the Emergency Family and Medical Leave Expansion Act and Emergency Paid Sick	7) Provide guidance and filing relief for non-resident alien taxpayers who cannot leave the U.S. and will trigger the substantial presence test due to the impacts of COVID-19. Tax Payments 8) Confirm that an extension overpayment made on July 15 counts as if were made for Q1 (i.e., April 15). Please confirm that this payment counts towards any required Q2 estimated tax payments. 9) Provide relief for S corporations that must make estimated payments on April 15 (e.g., the section 1374 tax imposed on certain built-in gains). Employee Benefits 10) Provide payment relief to employers currently assessed penalties under the Affordable Care Act as part of the Employer Mandate under sections 4980H(a) and 4980H(b), including failure to file Form 1094-C, Transmittal of Employer-Provided Health Insurance Offer and Coverage Information Returns, and Form 1095-C, Employer-Provided Health Insurance Offer and Coverage, timely with the IRS and provide statements to participants under sections 6721 and 6722. The rapid emergence of the Coronavirus pandemic has generated never-before uncertainty and difficulties. Notice 2020-18 and the accompanying FAQs were both helpful and appreciated. However, additional relief and clarification are necessary to provide fairness and clarity to taxpayers and tax preparers while offering economic relief to small businesses and their employees. We plan to continue our dialogue in the upcoming weeks.”

Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act in response to the ongoing Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19) pandemic (Emergency Declaration). The Emergency Declaration instructed the Secretary of the Treasury “to provide relief from tax deadlines to Americans who have been adversely affected by the COVID-19 emergency, as appropriate, pursuant to 26 U.S.C. 7508A(a).” Pursuant to the Emergency Declaration, this notice provides relief under section 7508A(a) of the Internal Revenue Code (Code) for the persons described in section III of this notice that the Secretary of the Treasury has determined to be affected by the COVID-19 emergency. On March 20, 2020, the Treasury Department and the IRS issued Notice 2020-18, to be published in IRB 2020-15, which superseded Notice 2020-17 and provided expanded relief, postponing the due date for both filing Federal income tax returns and making Federal income tax payments from April 15, 2020 until July 15, 2020. This notice amplifies the relief provided in Notice 2020-18. III. If an eligible employer paid $10,000 in sick leave and was required to deposit $8,000 in taxes, the employer could use the entire $8,000 of taxes in order to make qualified leave payments and file a request for an accelerated credit for the remaining $2,000. Equivalent child care leave and sick leave credit amounts are available to self-employed individuals under similar circumstances. These credits will be claimed on their income tax return and will reduce estimated tax payments. Small Business Exemption  Small businesses with fewer than 50 employees will be eligible for an exemption from the leave requirements relating to school closings or child care unavailability where the requirements would jeopardize the ability of the business to continue. While the focus of the legislation is not tax, a large number of tax provisions are included in the over-600-page bill. Recovery rebates: The bill provides for payments to taxpayers — “recovery rebates” — which are being treated as advance refunds of a 2020 tax credit. Under this provision, individuals will receive a tax credit of $1,200 ($2,400 for joint filers) plus $500 for each qualifying child. The credit is phased out for taxpayers with adjusted gross income (AGI) above $150,000 (for joint filers), $112,500 (for heads of household), and $75,000 for other individuals. The credit is not available to nonresident aliens, individuals who can be claimed as a dependent by another taxpayer, and estates and trusts. Taxpayers will reduce the amount of the credit available on their 2020 tax return by the amount of the advance refund payment they receive. Payroll tax credit refunds: The bill provides for advance refunding of the payroll tax credits

			enacted last week in the Families First Coronavirus Response Act, P.L. 116-127. The credit for required paid sick leave and the credit for required paid family leave can be refunded in advance using forms and instructions the IRS will provide. The IRS is instructed to waive any penalties for failure to deposit payroll taxes under Sec. 3111(a) or 3221(a) if the failure was due to an anticipated payroll tax credit. Employee retention credit: The bill creates an employee retention credit for employers that close due to the coronavirus pandemic. Eligible employers are allowed a credit against employment taxes equal to 50% of qualified wages (up to $10,000 in wages) for each employee. Eligible employers are employers who were carrying on a trade or business during 2020 and for which the operation of that business is fully or partially suspended due to orders from an appropriate governmental authority limiting commerce, travel, or group meetings due to the COVID-19 outbreak. Employers that have gross receipts that are less than 50% of their gross receipts for the same quarter in the prior year are also eligible, until their gross receipts exceed 80% of their gross receipts for the same calendar quarter in the prior year. For employers with more than 100 employees, wages eligible for the credit are wages that the employer pays employees who are not providing services due to the suspension of the business or a drop in gross receipts. For employers with 100 or fewer employees, all wages paid qualify for the credit. Retirement plans: Taxpayers can take up to $100,000 in coronavirus-related distributions from retirement plans without being subject to the Sec. 72(t) 10% additional tax for early distributions. Eligible distributions can be taken up to Dec. 31, 2020. Coronavirus-related distributions may be repaid within three years. For these purposes, an eligible taxpayer is one

Any resulting income inclusion can be taken over three years. The bill also modifies the AGI limitations on charitable contributions for 2020, to 100% of AGI for individuals and 25% of taxable income for corporations. The bill also increases the food contribution limits to 25%. Payroll tax delay: The bill delays payment of 50% of 2020 employer payroll taxes until Dec. 31, 2021; the other 50% will be due Dec. 31, 2022. For self-employment taxes, 50% will not be due until those same dates. Net operating losses: The bill temporarily repeals the 80% income limitation for net operating loss deductions for years beginning before 2021. Based on member feedback, the AICPA has identified seven key areas in need of immediate relief and provided the latest developments (below) to the 20 most frequently asked questions on tax filing and payment relief. Correspondence Q1: Due to office shutdowns in major cities, taxpayers and tax preparers may not timely receive or respond to IRS communications/notices that are sent by mail. Will the IRS provide any relief for late responses due to COVID-19? A1: Unfortunately, the IRS has not expressly announced any relief for affected taxpayers in regards to correspondence. AICPA will continue to urge Treasury and IRS to provide generous and automatic relief for issues related to administrative actions such as expiring statutes of limitations, the processing of correspondence and other actions not already covered by previous relief related to COVID-19. Emergency Declaration Q2: If the United States has been declared a disaster area by the President, why is section 7508A relief not granted? A2: Good point. Typically, when the President invokes the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act, taxpayers are granted broad payment and filing relief under section 7508A. However, the IRS's approach

However, it is unclear whether this relief also applies to Form 8879, which would allow millions of taxpayers to e-file their returns. The AICPA contacted Treasury and IRS several times urging them to confirm that the recent changes to their e-mail and digital signatures policy apply broadly to all types of returns and forms. It is important for the IRS to take whatever measures are possible to allow taxpayers and their preparers to utilize technology, such as e-signatures, to keep a safe distance from others during the pandemic. (Unofficially, IRS has told us that we should assume the new policy only applies to the specific collection forms listed in their memorandum. This response is unacceptable given the impact of COVID-19 on the entire Country.) Estates Q4: Has IRS announced filing or payment relief for Form 706? How can IRS expect

			The American Institute of CPAs, the AICPA-led Coalition, and other key stakeholders - collectively representing 44K CPA firms, 2.5M small businesses and 30M employees - have come together to drive a common understanding and approach around the implementation of the U.S. Treasury and Small Business Administration Paycheck Protection Program (PPP). Based on these collective discussions and our understanding of the intent of the PPP program, the AICPA is making the following broad recommendations for lender documents as well as providing direction on a few key calculations. These AICPA recommendations are not meant to be comprehensive. This is not intended to be used as a loan calculator. Rather, these recommendations are meant to help minimize confusion and complexity for applicants and to help drive consistency with lenders. Our overall objective is to help drive an effective PPP application process that quickly directs relief funds into the hands of small business owners and their employees. I.For Employers: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Federal payroll tax reports: 2019 IRS quarterly reports on Form 941 and annual Forms 940 or 944. If your organization uses a Professional Employer Organization (PEO) you can supply other supporting documents.</li> <li>2. Compensation: Payroll reports for calendar year 2019, which will include the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Gross wages for each employee, including officer(s) if paid W-2 wages.</li> <li>• Paid time off, vacation pay and family medical leave pay for each employee if not included in gross wages.</li> <li>• State and local taxes assessed on an employee's compensation (i.e. SUTA).</li> <li>• For seasonal businesses, use a 12 week period beginning February 15, 2019 or March 1, 2019.</li> <li>• For organizations that were not in business during the period February 15, 2019 through</li> </ul> </li> </ol>

Retirement plan benefits: Documentation showing the sum of all retirement plan funding costs paid by the organization. • Include funding for all employees and the company owners. • Do not include employee withholdings for their portion of contributions to the plan. • Reporting period to match the compensation period included in item 2. Additional Points For Gathering Employer Documents Master Payroll Report: Many small businesses use payroll processing companies that can provide a master payroll report that includes items 1 and 2 on the previous page. Additionally, if the payroll processing company also supports your health care and retirement benefit reporting, items 3 and 4 may also be included in the master payroll report. Independent contractors not included in employer payroll calculation: Some lenders originally requested that data include 1099s for independent contractors. However, 13 CFR Part 120, Issued by the SBA on April 2nd states in item 2h (page 11)for a loan application that independent contractors should NOT be included in the payroll calculation for employers as any independent contractor should be submitting their own loan application.

Calculation Recommendations &amp; Other Clarifications <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. For the calculation of the Average Monthly Payroll cost, we recommend that payroll providers and CPAs use Gross Payroll based on 2019 data. Neither the CARES Act nor the recent guidance instructs the PPP applicant to exclude federal withholding and employee and employer FICA for the 2019 period. The Average Monthly Payroll cost includes Gross Payroll and the other defined PPP payroll cost elements such as health care, etc.</li> <li>2. When determining which portions to exclude for payroll costs over $100,000; 13 CFR Part 120 clarified in item 2g(i) (page 11) that only salary over $100,000 is excluded, not healthcare or retirement benefits.</li> <li>3. Third-party certification is not necessary for the loan application. The borrower is solely responsible for certifying to the statements described in 13 CFR Part 120, issued by the SBA on April 2nd, item 2t (page 17).</li> <li>4. The loan forgiveness component of the program can be addressed at a later date as additional guidance is received. However, our position is that Gross Payroll as described in item 1 should be used as a component of loan forgiveness calculation and we are stating this position with policy makers.” (4/6/20)</li> </ol> AICPA Press Release - AICPA Says Current Tax Filing and Payment Extensions Are Not Enough, IRS Must Act Quickly (4/2/20)

			We're also directly addressing governmental issues on behalf of you and the clients and businesses that you serve on a global stage. In the U.S., we heard from many of our members that the coronavirus is making it increasingly difficult for taxpayers and tax advisers to file on time and in a safe manner. With your help, we called upon the Treasury Department and the IRS for tax payment and filing relief and were successful in our efforts. We also worked with Congress to share your concerns and further urge the administration to provide much-needed relief. We're grateful that the filing deadline for federal income tax returns and payments traditionally due April 15 was extended to July 15, however, broader tax relief is greatly needed. We continue to call upon Treasury and the IRS to extend all federal tax and information returns, and payments due between March 3–July 15, postponing those deadlines to July 15. We also have a list of 100+ questions we're working with the IRS to address for the benefit of taxpayers and preparers. We recognize that, like many organizations in the world, the IRS is operating at 50% capacity right now and we need to be patient as we await their responses. You can find immediate answers to questions about state tax deadlines, how states are defining essential services and much more at the AICPA Coronavirus Resource Center. We also called on the U.S. Congress and the Trump administration to take 9 key steps to protect U.S. businesses and employees struggling due to the impact of the coronavirus on the economy. One of these steps included support for U.S. small businesses, many of which were forced to shut down. We are leading a coalition with Paychex, Intuit, the International Franchise Association and more than a dozen other organizations to advocate for proposals that keep small business open and resilient, and employees paid.

			Our efforts have paid off: The new CARES Act includes many of the provisions we championed for including money for employee salaries, benefits and business expenses, and loan forgiveness. We were also the key small business voice for a grant for small business payroll. While the $350B of funding is at its inception a “loan,” it converts in eight weeks to a grant. This allows small businesses to continue funding their employees. It also helps to shorten the start-up time when small business can renew business. You can learn about this new legislation and the implications for small business owners in this video. In the U.K., we called upon the Chancellor to adopt five key measures to further help the self-employed, sole traders and small and micro U.K. businesses hit by the growing coronavirus outbreak. Our recommendations include access to state-backed loans, income grants at the same level for self-employed as for employees of companies, reduction of the value-added tax (VAT), consolidation of communication channels and extension of business rates holiday to SMEs and suspension of evictions. We’re happy to say that the U.K. Government adopted several of these measures in its final plan, but we think there’s more it can do to help the small business community. So, we wrote to the UK Chancellor again with six additional recommendations that we believe will make it easier for businesses to function during this time of crisis. Globally, we’re in active discussions with governments across many countries, and will continue to keep you updated about our work to support and protect the finance and accounting community. We’re supporting our students. We recognize the learning journeys of our CIMA students and CPA candidates have been disrupted with the closure of test centers worldwide. With all the uncertainty in the country today, we are grateful to South Dakota’s U.S. Senator John Thune for understanding how this issue affects everyone, and for his leadership in getting legislation introduced quickly to solve that problem,” stated Tommy Pollema, CPA, Executive Director of the South Dakota CPA Society. Karl added, “We are pleased by the Treasury’s and IRS’s decision to broaden relief, with tax filing added to the previously announced payment extensions and penalty and interest relief. We stand ready to assist Treasury and the IRS if needed and will continue to inform the accounting profession about ways it can help clients and manage their business in the midst of the coronavirus pandemic.” The AICPA and state CPA societies actively called for tax payment and filing relief, as well as providing timely tax filing resources for accounting professionals and policymakers: Earlier today, AICPA’s Barry Melancon thanked Treasury for listening to taxpayers and the accounting profession. 			support his efforts to provide Americans with much-needed tax filing relief in the midst of this national emergency. Now is the time to support individuals and businesses. Let's not burden taxpayers and tax preparers with the need to file a form while they are confronting coronavirus-related challenges." Karl added, "No income tax or other returns should be due before July 15, 2020. Tasks that are required of taxpayers, including contributing to retirement plans and making elections, and those of tax preparers and taxpayers, such as determining taxable income and tax liability for a valid extension, should not be required prior to July 15, 2020. We do hope that taxpayers and their advisers are able to complete as many returns as possible during the normal time frames. However, offering taxpayers only relief for federal income tax payments but not for the filing of any tax or information returns is not sufficient nor does it recognize the burdens our citizens are facing across the country. More must be done immediately. This is why the AICPA supports Senator Thune's legislation that will help millions of individuals and businesses, and the CPAs who advise them." Yesterday, AICPA President and CEO, Barry Melancon, CPA, strongly called for the Department of the Treasury to implement tax filing relief, saying, "The AICPA understands the need for economic stimulus and, if possible, those who can file and get refunds should do so now. However, it is impossible for every taxpayer and their tax adviser to prepare returns in this environment...Treasury must act immediately by extending the April 15th filing deadline and providing more clarity on the details of recent relief actions." The AICPA continues to encourage its members to refer to the following resources that

			payment relief does not apply to the filing of tax returns. The concern and confusion related to coronavirus is causing cities across the country to shut businesses down, and Treasury's recent decisions do not reflect the real-world difficulties tax practitioners and their clients are experiencing." Melancon continued, "The AICPA understands the need for economic stimulus and, if possible, those who can file and get refunds should do so now. However, it is impossible for every taxpayer and their tax adviser to prepare returns in this environment. Nearly 60% of all taxpayers turn to a tax practitioner to prepare and file their tax returns, and individual and business tax filing deadlines are fast approaching. Even the relatively simple process of filing an extension form requires calculations based on data and information from the taxpayer. Given the current environment, this extension process is impossible for many taxpayers. Treasury must act immediately by extending the April 15th filing deadline and providing more clarity on the details of recent relief actions." Edward Karl, CPA, AICPA vice president of tax policy and advocacy, added, "We understand that these are uncertain and challenging times for the Department of the Treasury. In the past, when relief was provided for a disaster, taxpayers have typically received payment and filing relief together. It is very surprising that we have not yet seen filing relief given the severity of the coronavirus pandemic's impact on our nation. We continue to communicate the need for filing relief and clarity to Treasury and hope to see action soon." The AICPA continues to encourage its members to refer to the following resources that can help them manage clients' needs and their business at this time:
